

Geoff Muldaur

Sat Nov. 3, 8:00 pm Skylight Exchange

$14, members and advanced tickets $16, door
Chapel Hill: Schoolkids Records, Skylight Exchange
Durham: The Regulator Bookshop
Raleigh: Harry's Guitar Shop, Nice Price Books

Geoff Muldaur has one of the truly great voices to emerge from the '60s folk, blues and folk-rock scenes of the northeast. In particular Geoff, is associated with Cambridge, Club 47, Jim Kweskin and the Jug Band. He also an excellent country blues guitarist.

After far too long an absence, Geoff Muldaur is back!

He has most recently toured Britain, Germany and Ireland, and has appeared at Carnegie Hall, Royal Festival Hall, the Kennedy Center, and "A Prairie Home Companion". He is scheduled for a return appearance on that venue shortly before his visit here!

What Muldaur does is take traditional blues and gospel pieces and expand them in directions that seem completely logical once one hears them, but are quite unlike anyone else's approach. And that magnificent and incredibly pliable voice that can send shivers up a spine is stronger than ever.

Muldaur has been out of the spotlight for way too long. Join his come-back with what promises to be a powerful, uplifting show.

This is a smoke-free concert. For more info call: (919)286-7963

